

The Swiss State Secretariat for Education, Research and Innovation
– together with Stockholm Business Region Development / the City of Stockholm – cordially invites you to participate at the Stockholm Digital Health Days 2013

WHO:

- Representatives of Swiss Small or Medium-Sized Enterprises (SME), higher education or research institutes as well as of Switzerland-based Multinational Enterprises (MNE) and care providers. Are you interested in finding new partners & funding for your latest R&D project within the fields of ICT, life sciences and healthcare? Then register quickly as seats are extremely limited!

WHAT:

- Two days of inspiring seminars, challenging discussions and hands-on workshops dedicated to the interfaces between information and communication technology (ICT), life sciences and healthcare with a focus on mobile health solutions, big data analytics and gamification.
- Meet potential partners at the B2B / Matchmaking session organized by the Swiss-Swedish Innovation Initiative (www.swii.org) with information about a bi-lateral Call for outlines to joint innovation projects under the EUREKA and the Eurostars programmes.
- Many global experts, both well-known profiles and inspiring newcomers. Some of the most recent additions to the speaker list include Don Jones of Qualcomm Life and Steven Burrill, entrepreneur and successful health investor.
- Accepted Swiss participants get free access to both the Digital Health Conference and the Digital Health B2B Meetings; package includes free on-site lunch, networking receptions and a VIP dinner at the Stockholm City Hall.

WHEN: August 21 & 22, 2013

WHERE: Stockholm Trade Fair (Stockholmsmässan), Stockholm, Sweden

REGISTRATION:

Do you want to be part of a community of researchers, entrepreneurs and business developers, creating the future solutions for healthcare, self-care and wellness?
Then register online on <http://www.b2match.eu/digitalhealth2013> until August 18, 2013.

I would be delighted if you join me for that exciting conference!

Yours sincerely,

Mauro Dell'Ambrogio
